COURSE INFORMATION

General:
German I is a communicative language course, in which students develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in German and a basic understanding of German culture.

You can find our course offerings for 1101 in the Course Directory: http://www.columbia.edu/cu/bulletin/uwb/#/cu/bulletin/uwb/subj/GERM/_Fall2022.html

Contact Info:
For all questions about the courses contact for Columbia Jutta Schmiers-Heller, Language Program Director and for Barnard Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj, Language Program Coordinator.

An electronic version of this syllabus will be available under: https://germanic.columbia.edu
Registration information: Columbia Bulletin, Vergil, or the Barnard Registrar.

Required Texts:

Course Goals:
Upon completion of German UN1101, students who have attended classes regularly and successfully completed all assignments and ALL assessments (with a minimum grade of B) should be able to:

- provide basic information in German about themselves, families, interests, likes and dislikes, daily activities;
- understand and participate in a simple conversation on everyday topics (e.g., weather, meeting people, school, shopping, etc.);
- read edited texts on familiar topics, understand the main ideas and identify the underlying themes;
- pick out important information from a variety of "authentic texts" (e.g. menus, signs, train schedules, websites, but also newspaper articles and simple literary texts, etc.);
- begin to follow film material, identify chief characters and plots, as well as positive and negative critiques on popular German films;
- fill in forms requesting information, write letters, notes, or messages providing simple information;
- provide information about German-speaking countries (e.g., geography, weather, du/Sie distinction, customs);
- use and understand a range of essential vocabulary related to everyday life (e.g., days of the week, colors, numbers, months, seasons, telling time, foods, names of stores, family, transportation, etc.), and
- pronounce German well enough and produce German with enough grammatical accuracy to be comprehensible to a German speaker accustomed to speaking with non-natives.
LEARNING DURING THE PANDEMIC

While we are back on campus, it is clear that all of us are still dealing with some anxiety, stress, uncertainty, trauma, and grief to varying extents. Our goal is to create a culture of flexibility and care in our class community, and we believe such a culture builds upon consistent engagement, empathy, and clear communication. We will try to create channels for these and model expectations, but we will also rely on you to help build our community and provide feedback so that we can make adjustments when needed.

COURSE POLICIES AND GRADING

General expectations:

- This course is conducted in German. Come ready to experiment and contribute!
- In order to learn the language, it is crucial that we speak it in class as much as possible, whether as a whole class or in small groups and pairs.
- Stay engaged - the course covers a lot of ground every day. The more you engage and ask questions, the more you will learn. Engagement inside and outside of class is expected and counts significantly toward your grade.
- Homework: Homework is scheduled to align with the content in the class. Day to day homework affords further practice and is usually due by the next class. Larger assignments have a bit more flexibility.
- Late assignments: Homework should be handed in on time. However, you will be given a grace period until midnight of the same day to hand in homework and it will not affect your grade. For each day after that you will lose 5% on your homework for lateness. After 10 days your homework will no longer be graded and you will receive a 0.
- Frequent or extended absences impede development of oral/aural skills and will lower your grade or jeopardize your success in class. The first 2 absences will not impact your grade, each additional absence will lower your participation grade by 2%.
- Be proactive: 1. if you cannot join us on a given day, it is important to let your instructor know ahead of time and to discuss how and when you can make up the work. 2. If you are unclear about requirements or assignments, contact your instructor as soon as possible. Don’t wait until after a deadline.
- Be prepared to work about two hours out of class for every hour in class.
- More detailed information on the course elements will be provided by your instructor throughout the course.

work, questions you may have before/after class, via email, or even coming to office hours.

- Participation may also include informal writing and speaking projects.

Homework (practice)

- Homework is scheduled to align with the content in class, so please be sure to complete it on time.

Projects, presentations, and writing assignments

- Assignments in this category are scheduled in a way to allow some flexibility and time for completion.
- Assignments are designed to allow you to use vocabulary and structures you have learned and practiced in class. All formal writing assignments will be completed in two versions. You will receive feedback on your first version, can make changes, and hence improve your final grade.

Quizzes

- Regular graded quizzes (on smaller items, such as vocabulary) and larger quizzes (chapter reviews) are designed to help you practice various aspects of the language and will be scheduled inside and outside of class.
- Smaller quizzes: 5%; larger quizzes: 10%

Final Assessment

Final Written Assessment 15%
Final Oral Interview 10%
- The semester will end with a final and an oral assessment. More information about its format will be shared after midterm.
- We will have a written in-class final and the orals will occur at the same time. More information to follow.

OTHER HOUSEKEEPING INFORMATION

Placement exam:
If you have prior knowledge of German, you need to take our placement exam, so we can help you to find the best level. You can find information on the test here: https://germanic.columbia.edu/content/germanplacementexam Or you can contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller (js2331@columbia.edu) for Columbia and Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj (imotyl@barnard.edu) for Barnard.
Columbia and Barnard Policy on Academic Integrity:
The Columbia and Barnard Policy on Academic Integrity forbids students to hand in work (homework, vocabulary lists, essays, etc.) that has been edited by a tutor or in any way authored or rewritten by someone other than the student. It is crucial that all work is completed by the students themselves and reflect their personal language level. Please note that extensive use (= translation of a sentence and/or more) of a translation tool such as Google translate, violates academic integrity. If you feel you need tutoring, speak to your instructor or contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller (js2331) for Columbia or Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj (imudretz@barnard.edu) for Barnard for permissible tutoring guidelines. Please also visit the following websites on academic integrity and the honor code:
https://www.college.columbia.edu/academics/academicintegrity
http://www.college.columbia.edu/honorcode

Learning preferences and accommodations:
We acknowledge in our courses that people learn in different ways. For example, having visuals to support text may work better for some students, whereas others learn better by listening to the instructor. Please talk to your instructor about your learning preferences, so we can make the course work as well as possible for everyone. If you have, or suspect, a disability of any kind, please be sure to contact the office of disabilities (see link below) so that accommodations can be put in place. The earlier we know about it the better it will work.

Academic, mental and physical support:
Student life can get very intense, especially during this time. If you feel that you need help in any way, please don’t wait but act immediately. Let your instructor know that you are struggling. Most importantly, contact your Dean/Advisor to ask for help. Below are online resources to help you:

German grammatical gender:
Nouns in German have a gender (masculine, feminine, or neuter) that often does not obey any apparent logic. The German language also assigns humans a gender, and German is not special for having a rigid binary gender system. Pervasive gender normativity is reflected in our use of language, and language instruction is one of the spaces in which such traditional structures are reinforced. At Columbia and Barnard, we strive to be respectful and inclusive. Whereas we still need to learn language in its normative form, we encourage you to be aware of the implications of such norms and to be attentive to your classmates’ and instructors’ desires. Please contact your instructor right away should you have any preferred name and/or preferred pronoun by which you would like to be addressed. Although there are limitations to what the language allows grammatically, the German Department faculty and staff are committed to finding solutions that work for everyone.

ELEMENTARY GERMAN 1101 - Weekly Plan

Please note:
- The overall content and assignment may change based on our class needs.
- Major changes to deadlines can still occur based on class needs, but will be discussed in class in a timely manner. Small quizzes will be announced but are not reflected in the syllabus.
- The weekly plan just gives you a general overview, however, more information on topics and page numbers can be found in the book and detailed instructions for homework and assignments will be provided by your instructor.
