GENERAL COURSE DESCRIPTION

Elementary German I is a communicative language course, in which students develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in German and a basic understanding of German culture. Upon successful completion of this course (see expectation) with a minimum grade of B should be able to:

- provide basic information in German about themselves, families, interests, likes and dislikes, daily activities; understand and participate in a simple conversation on everyday topics (e.g., weather, meeting people, school, shopping, etc.);
- read edited texts on familiar topics, understand the main ideas and identify the underlying themes;
- pick out important information from a variety of "authentic texts" (e.g. menus, signs, train schedules, websites, but also newspaper articles and simple literary texts, etc.);
- begin to follow film material, identify chief characters and plots;
- fill in forms requesting information, write letters, notes, or messages providing simple information;
- provide information about German-speaking countries (e.g., geography, weather, du/Sie distinction, customs);
- use and understand a range of essential vocabulary related to everyday life (e.g., days of the week, colors, numbers, months, seasons, telling time, foods, names of stores, family, transportation, etc.), and
- pronounce German well enough and produce German with enough grammatical accuracy to be comprehensible to a German speaker accustomed to speaking with non-natives.

COURSE POLICIES AND EXPECTATIONS

This course is conducted in German. Come ready to experiment and contribute!

- In order to learn the language, it is crucial that we speak it in class as much as possible, whether as a whole class or in small groups and pairs.
- Stay engaged. The course covers a lot of ground every day. The more you engage and ask questions, the more you will learn. Engagement inside and outside of class is expected and counts significantly toward your grade. Be prepared to work about two hours out of class for every hour in class.
- Homework. Homework is scheduled to align with the content in the class. Day to day homework affords further practice and is usually due before next class. Larger assignments have a bit more flexibility. If you are unclear about requirements or assignments, contact your instructor as soon as possible. Don't wait until after a deadline. Late homework: Homework must be submitted on time in the format requested (paper/electronic) in order to be graded as complete/full credit. You will lose 5% for each day it is late. After 10 days your homework will no longer be accepted.
- Attendance. Your attendance at every class meeting is important. Frequent or extended absences impede development of oral/aural skills and will lower your grade or jeopardize your success in class. You will be allowed two unexcused absences. Each additional unexcused absence will result in lowering your final grade by 1%. If you cannot attend in person due to sickness, an unexpected family or personal matter, or a religious holiday, discuss strategies with your instructor. Be proactive. If you know you will be missing a class, it is your responsibility to let your instructor know in advance and arrange for any homework to be made up.
- Device Policy. The use of electronic devices, including but not limited to smartphones, tablet computers, and laptops, is generally prohibited during class sessions. While it is important to know how to use relevant permitted electronic resources as you learn the language, e.g. dictionaries, class time is limited and face-to-face interactions with peers and instructors are a priority. Your instructor will inform you in advance if this policy will be overridden for classroom activities supplemented with the use of a device.
- More detailed information on the course elements will be provided by your instructor throughout the course.

GRADING

Grades for the course will be calculated as follows:

Course Elements	Percentage of Grade	Additional Information
Class Work (attendance, participation)	20%	Class work may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Attendance is mandatory and is a crucial component to successful learning. ● The participation grade is based on punctual arrival to class and active participation. Participation is not merely limited to speaking in class, but also your engagement in pair/group work, questions you may have before/after class, via email, or even coming to office hours. ● Participation may also include informal writing and speaking projects.
Homework (practice)	20%	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Homework is due by the beginning of class in the requested form (paper/electronic). Please read the Homework section above carefully.

They are designed to allow you to use vocabulary and structures you have learned and practiced in class. ● All formal writing assignments will be completed in two versions. You will receive feedback on the first version, make revisions, and submit a second and final version. The grade you receive will be that of the second version. ● Short informal in-class writing may also occur and be graded and allow you to practice expressing yourself briefly using newly learned vocabulary and structures.
Oral Assessment	10%	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Will occur throughout the semester and will be announced as such. Oral assessment can take the form of short presentations, brief in-class interviews,

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

As the Columbia and Barnard Policy on Academic Integrity makes clear, the work you submit in any class must be your own. Handing in work (homework, vocabulary lists, essays, etc.) that has been edited by a tutor or in any way authored or rewritten by someone other than you is not permitted. In a language class, this means that the common practices of asking someone to look over your work, using online grammar and translation tools, or using AI, are, unless otherwise instructed, not permitted. It is crucial that all work is completed by you and reflects your competency in German. If you feel you need tutoring, speak to your instructor or contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller at Columbia or Erk Grimm for Barnard for permissible tutoring guidelines. ACADEMIC, MENTAL, AND PHYSICAL SUPPORT

Student life can get very intense. Please take care of yourself. If you feel that you need help in any way, please don't wait but act immediately. Let your instructor know that you are struggling. Our goal is to create a culture of flexibility and care in our class community, and we believe such a culture builds upon consistent engagement, empathy, and clear communication. We will try to create channels for these and model expectations, but we will also rely on you to help build our community and provide feedback so that we can make adjustments when needed. Most importantly, contact your Dean/Advisor so they can help you. In addition, visit Columbia's/Barnard's websites to know what services are available to you:

LEARNING PREFERENCES AND ACCOMMODATIONS

We acknowledge in our courses that people learn in different ways. For example, having visuals to support text may work better for some students, whereas others learn better by listening to the instructor. Please talk to your instructor about your learning preferences, so we can make the course work as well as possible for everyone. If you have, or suspect, a disability of any kind, please be sure to contact the office of disabilities (see link below) so that accommodations can be put in place. The earlier we know about it the better it will work.

GERMAN GRAMMATICAL GENDER

Nouns in German have a gender (masculine, feminine, or neuter) that often does not obey any apparent logic. The German language also assigns humans a gender, and German is not special for having a rigid binary gender system. Pervasive gender^[1]normativity is reflected in our use of language, and language instruction is one of the spaces in which such traditional structures are reinforced. At Columbia and Barnard, we strive to be respectful and inclusive. Whereas we still need to learn language in its normative form, we encourage you to be aware of the implications of such norms and to be attentive to your classmates' and instructors' desires. Please contact your instructor right away should you have any preferred name and/or preferred pronoun by which you would like to be addressed. Although there are limitations to what the language allows grammatically, the German Department faculty and staff are committed to finding solutions that work for everyone.

PLACEMENT EXAM

If you have prior knowledge of German, you must take the German placement exam so we can help you to find the best level. You can find information on the test here:

<https://germanic.columbia.edu/content/germanplacementexam>. Or you can contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller for Columbia and Erik Grimm (egrimm@barnard.edu) for Barnard.
