For all questions about the courses contact for Columbia Jutta Schmiers-Heller, Language Program Director and for Barnard Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj, Language Program Coordinator.

Required Texts: Kontakte:
A Communicative Approach.
Tschirner/Nikolai.

Course Goals
Upon completion of German UN1102, students who have attended classes regularly and successfully completed all assignments and ALL assessments (with a minimum grade of B) should be able to:

• provide basic information in German about themselves, families, interests, likes and dislikes, daily activities;
• understand and participate in a simple conversation on everyday topics (e.g., weather, meeting people, school, shopping, etc.);
• read both edited and unedited texts on familiar topics and on topics of cultural interest in contemporary Germany with the focus being to understand the main ideas, and pick out important information from "authentic texts" (e.g.: newspaper articles, emails and websites, excerpts from short stories, etc.);
• fill in forms requesting information, write letters, notes, post cards, or messages providing simple information, but also write short essays expressing opinions, narrating, and supporting arguments;
• provide information about German-speaking countries (e.g., geography, weather, du/Sie distinction);
• work with scenes from contemporary and classical German cinema (including a full-length feature film);
• use and understand a range of essential vocabulary related to everyday life, school and university, travel situations and European geography, interpersonal relations, interview situations, plus a growing number of strategic concepts essential to expressing opinions and supporting arguments, and pronounce German with increasing sense of differentiation, as well as produce German with a level of grammatical accuracy that makes students comprehensible to a German speaker accustomed to speaking with non-natives. The goal is to be able to say clearly what one can say and not have to give up just because a specific word or form remains out of grasp.

pronounce German well enough and produce German with enough grammatical accuracy to be comprehensible to a German speaker accustomed to speaking with non-natives.

LEARNING DURING COVID
Despite having been back for in-person classes, we are still dealing with some anxiety, stress, uncertainty, trauma, and grief to varying extents. Our goal is to create a culture of flexibility and care in our class community, and we believe such a culture builds upon consistent engagement, empathy, and clear communication. We will try to create channels for these and model expectations, but we will also rely on you to help build our community and provide feedback so that we can make adjustments when needed.

COURSE POLICIES AND GRADING

General expectations:

- This course is conducted in German. Come ready to experiment and contribute!
- In order to learn the language, it is crucial that we speak it in class as much as possible, whether as a whole class or in small groups and pairs.
- Stay engaged - the course covers a lot of ground every day. The more you engage and ask questions, the more you will learn. Engagement inside and outside of class is expected and counts significantly toward your grade.
- Homework: Homework is scheduled to align with the content in the class. Day to day homework affords further practice and is usually due by the next class. Larger assignments have a bit more flexibility.
- Late assignments: Homework should be handed in on time. However, you will be given a grace period until midnight of the same day to hand in homework and it will not affect your grade. For each day after that you will lose 5% on your homework for lateness. After 10 days your homework will no longer be graded and you will receive a 0.
- Frequent or extended absences impede development of oral/aural skills and will lower your grade or jeopardize your success in class. Each absence will impact your participation grade. The first 2 absences will not impact your overall grade, each additional absence will lower your overall grade by 1%. If you cannot attend in person due to sickness, discuss strategies with your instructor. >be proactive
- Be proactive: 1. if you cannot join us on a given day, it is important to let your instructor know ahead of time and to discuss how and when you can make up the work. 2. If you are unclear about requirements or assignments, contact your instructor as soon as possible. Don’t wait until after a deadline.
- Be prepared to work about two hours out of class for every hour in class.
- More detailed information on the course elements will be provided by your instructor throughout the course.

OTHER HOUSEKEEPING INFORMATION

Placement exam:
If you have prior knowledge of German, you need to take our placement exam, so we can help you to find the best level. You can find information on the test here: https://germanic.columbia.edu/content/germanplacementexam
Or you can contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller (js2331@columbia.edu) for Columbia and Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj (imotyl@barnard.edu) for Barnard.

Columbia and Barnard Policy on Academic Integrity:
The Columbia and Barnard Policy on Academic Integrity forbids students to hand in work (homework, vocabulary lists, essays, etc.) that has been edited by a tutor or in any way authored or rewritten by someone other than the student. It is crucial that all work is completed by the students themselves and reflect their personal language level. Please note that extensive use (= translation of a sentence and/or more) of a translation tool such as Google translate violates academic integrity. If you feel you need tutoring, speak to your instructor or contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller (js2331) at Columbia or Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj (imudretz@barnard.edu) for Barnard for permissible tutoring guidelines. Please also visit the following websites on academic integrity and the honor code:
https://www.college.columbia.edu/academics/academicintegrity
http://www.college.columbia.edu/honorcode

Learning preferences and accommodations:
We acknowledge in our courses that people learn in different ways. For example, having visuals to support text may work better for some students, whereas others learn better by listening to the instructor. Please talk to your instructor about your learning preferences, so we can make the course work as well as possible for everyone. If you have, or suspect, a disability of any kind, please be sure to contact the office of disabilities (see link below) so that accommodations can be put in place. The earlier we know about it the better it will work.

Academic, mental and physical support:
It's still pandemic time and student life can get stressful. Please take care of yourself. If you feel that you need help in any way, please don’t wait but act immediately. Let your instructor know that you are struggling. Most importantly, contact your Dean/Advisor so they can help you. In addition, visit Columbia’s/Barnard’s websites to know what services are available to you:

German grammatical gender:

Nouns in German have a gender (masculine, feminine, or neuter) that often does not obey any apparent logic. The German language also assigns humans a gender, and German is not special for having a rigid binary gender system. Pervasive gender normativity is reflected in our use of language, and language instruction is one of the spaces in which such traditional structures are reinforced. At Columbia and Barnard, we strive to be respectful and inclusive. Whereas we still need to learn language in its normative form, we encourage you to be aware of the implications of such norms and to be attentive to your classmates’ and instructors’ desires. Please contact your instructor right away should you have any preferred name and/or preferred pronoun by which you would like to be addressed. Although there are limitations to what the language allows grammatically, the German Department faculty and staff are committed to finding solutions that work for everyone.
