Note: Classes begin Tuesday, January 16th and students are expected to attend and complete all class work from day one. While the last official day to add a class for Spring Semester 2018 is Friday, January 26, students for UN1125 MUST have been in attendance and have completed ALL classwork for the first two weeks of semester at latest by Thursday January 25th. There will be NO NEW ADMISSIONS to German language classes in Week 3 of the Semester!

Course Goals

This is an intensive, accelerated multi-skill language course, which strengthens listening, speaking, reading, and writing, skills in German and promotes understanding of German culture. Upon completion, students who have attended ALL classes and successfully completed ALL assignments and ALL exams (with a minimum grade of B) should be able to:

- Provide information in German about themselves, their families, interests, likes and dislikes, and daily activities in all time frames;
- Understand and participate in simple conversations on a variety of everyday topics (e.g., weather, meeting new people, school, shopping, dining out, traveling, etc.);
- Read both edited and unedited texts on familiar topics and on topics of cultural interest in contemporary Germany with the focus being to understand the main ideas, and pick out important information from "authentic texts" (e.g.: menus, signs, train schedules, T.V. schedules, popular magazines, newspaper articles, emails and websites, excerpts from short stories, etc.);
- Fill in forms requesting general information, write letters, notes, post cards, or messages providing simple information, but also write short essays expressing opinions, describing, narrating, and supporting arguments;
- Write creative stories using a full range of time frames;
- Work with scenes from contemporary and classical German cinema (including a full-length feature film);
- Provide general information about the German-speaking countries (e.g., geography, size, weather, du/Sie distinction, daily customs, etc.);
- Use and understand a range of essential vocabulary related to everyday life school and university, travel situations and European geography, interpersonal relations, interview situations, plus a growing number of strategic concepts essential to expressing opinions and supporting arguments, and
- Pronounce German with increasing sense of differentiation, as well as produce German with a level of grammatical accuracy that makes students comprehensible to a native speaker accustomed to speaking with language learners. The goal is to be able to say clearly what one can say and not have to give up just because a specific word or form remains out of grasp. Some repetition will be necessary, but skills in circumlocution increase the successful 1125 students' preparedness to face day-to-day situations in a native German setting.

Course Requirements - Elementary German UN1125

Required Texts: Kontakte: A Communicative Approach. Terrell/Tschirner/Nikolai. 8th Edition, 2017.

Course policies and requirements:

German language students are expected to attend and complete class work from day one of class. Students MUST BE IN ATTENDANCE and have completed all course work for weeks one and two at very latest Thursday February 1. There will be NO NEW ADMITS to German language classes in Week 3 of the Semester!

Regular attendance and participation in class, written and lab assignments, web activities, short quizzes, chapter tests and a comprehensive three-hour final exam. Participation is graded on a daily basis. You are required to participate in pair and/or group work on a regular basis in order to improve your speaking skills. Class attendance is a formal component of the grade. Frequent or extended absences impede development of oral/aural skills and directly influence in-class performance. Any student who misses class (for any reason) should inform the instructor in advance, make up, and hand in all work. No grade will be awarded for late work, but work will be corrected as part of the student's overall record. Regular attendance is absolutely necessary in language classes. Missed deadlines count as zero. More than one week of absence automatically lowers the grade for classwork. Excused absences require a note from the student's class dean. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out what material was covered during your absence and to keep up with the current assignments and classroom materials. DO NOT MISS CLASS!

Columbia and Barnard policy on academic integrity forbids students to hand in work (homework, vocabulary lists, essays, etc.) that has been edited by a tutor or in any way authored or rewritten by someone other than the student. All work must be completed by the student him/herself and reflect the student's personal language level. No credit will be awarded for work that you did not complete yourself! Extensive use (= translation of a sentence and/or more) of a translation tool such as Google translate violates academic integrity. If you feel you need tutoring, speak to your instructor or contact Jutta Schmiers-Heller (js2331) at Columbia or Irene Motyl-Mudretzkyj (imudretz@barnard.edu) for Barnard for permissible tutoring guidelines.

Homework assignments include written assignments as well as exercises and activities to prepare for oral presentation during class. Oral preparation is just as important as all written work and will greatly improve your ability to participate during class. Completing your homework and handing it in on time is an important part of your learning process. Instructors are under no obligation to accept late homework assignments, be if they do, your homework will be corrected but count as zero.

Quizzes are prepared by individual instructors and administered at his/her discretion; they may be announced or unannounced. Quizzes evaluate how well students have mastered vocabulary and structures and point out areas of strength and weakness; these scores are part of your class work grade. The dates of all chapter tests (each test = 5% of overall grade) can be found in the syllabus. Each test emphasizes the material contained in the chapter and may include: listening comprehension, vocabulary, grammar, reading comprehension, and writing. There will be no make-up tests. DO NOT MISS TESTS!

Essays will be written about every two weeks. Students are expected to write a coherent text (100 - 150 words for German 1101) on an assigned topic. You should use vocabulary and structures you have learned and practiced in class. This is an opportunity to demonstrate how well you can use the language that you are learning; there is no need for extensive use of the dictionary to find new vocabulary words! Under no circumstances should your essay be written by anyone but yourself. Essays that were not written by you will not receive a grade. (Please refer back to Columbia's and Barnard's policy on integrity as well as the use of translation programs (page 2). Essays will be graded on 1) comprehensibility, 2) quality of the content/information, 3) use of familiar vocabulary, and 4) grammatical accuracy. Each essay will be written twice. On version one, students receive comments about content and grammatical errors. The second version should incorporate the instructor's suggestions and the appropriate corrections. The final essay grade will be an average of both grades The course grade is based on:

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY/BARNARD COLLEGE
UN 1125 – SP 2018

The course grade is based on:	Percentage:	Note
Class work (attendance, participation)	20%	Missing more than one week of instruction lowers grade for class participation.
Homework (written, lab web)	15%	Homework, lab and web work due on assigned date and will not be graded if late.
Chapter tests	25%	No make-up quizzes/tests. Missed quiz/test grade is 0.
Essays	15%	All essays must be submitted on the due date. No late work accepted.
Oral final	5%	Will take place during the written exam.
Written final	20%	Students must pass final exam to pass course!

NOTE: Please note that class work, homework, and the essays make up 50% of your final grade. Receiving a good grade or passing the class is not just based on doing well on the chapter tests and the final exam.
